Introduction to the Akashic Records

The Akashic Records refers to a database of every word, thought or action that is stored energetically and encoded in a non-physical plane of existence. They are said to contain the information of every Soul or Being in the cosmos. The Records are continually updated, with each new thought, word or action that every Soul or entity makes. The Akashic Records therefore contain the energetic prints about the origination and journey of every Soul through its lifetimes. They connect each of us to one another.

Akasha is a Sanskrit word meaning “sky”, “space” or “aether”. To aid in visualization, most describe the Akashic Records metaphorically as a library. Others likened it to be a “Universal Computer”, the “Mind of God”, the Cosmic or Collective Consciousness, the Collective Unconscious or the Collective Subconscious. Akashic Records is not physically an out-there thing. It is the speck of divinity within us that allows us to access the field of the Akashic Records.

Anything about the Universe has an energetic record. The records of your Soul are located via your full name at birth and birth date of this current lifetime. They are embedded with information about your previous lifetimes, your Soul Origination, current life lessons and your purpose, and about future choice points. Similarly, your Business has an energetic record of its own, and once we connect to that record, we can begin to remove the obstacles and begin to create rapid success.

The soul’s journey in self-awareness is undertaken through a cause-and-effect process. You are constantly presented with opportunities to meet self and to apply spiritual principles in the physical world. You will meet with lessons that will be provided repeatedly, until you have gained mastery.

By accessing the Akashic Records and retrieving information then we can identify the lessons and patterns that are holding us back from achieving our goals and ultimate growth, we can clear these issues by energetically clearing the issue and subsequently changing our choices. Allowing us to attract the reality we wish to create. This work has profound effects both in your personal life and in your business.

Instead of me going on and on about how good the Akashic records can be I thought I would make available sample readings so that you can see and read for yourself how the Akashic records are providing solutions and impacting people's lives in a positive way.

Below is a small sample of recent readings I have completed for clients they have agreed to share their readings for the benefit of those seeking to connect to their divinity in a much more interactive way. Each reading is unique in its nature, and the readings meet each individual at the point that they are providing guidance and understanding of the issues that they are currently facing.

The names have been removed to protect the privacy of clients. Please be aware those of you who are reading this will receive an energy transmission directly from the Akashic realms that may speak to your Soul in different ways so please pay attention to your thoughts and feelings after you have read what is contained here.

I believe that there is no coincidence that you have downloaded this e-book therefore If what you read below resonates with you and you are ready to blast past all your obstacles and step into your divine power and create the life you truly deserve then go ahead and click on the link below to book your bespoke Akashic Record Reading Sessions today. <http://www.akashasouljourney.com>

Entrepreneurial Guidance

Dearest *****

Greetings from the One True Source

Today we address the prospect of business ownership. To date you have been unsuccessful, why?

Well first most important is because of your father and genetic inherited karmic responsibility.

This matter is not detectable outside of this medium you are now reading or unless you open your karmic file so to speak. The limitation you bump into is that of your father's lineage and expectations placed upon you. You are expected to be a good husband and expected to secure a good job, and the sheer weight of expectations weighs heavy upon your family line.

The spirit of business ownership is entrepreneurship; at some point there must be a decision made which camp you will base yourself in. Entrepreneurial activity requires out of the box thinking. You are moving up stream against the status quo and the mass consciousness, big time within the first three months of setting up your business endeavors.

These first three months one must conquer oneself and force outside of you that wish to draw you back to the status quo. Have you prepared for this?

Then this is the first thing on your list, prepare for a mental toughness assault course in the first three months of your endeavours.

Now to begin successfully outside of your current business place of work you must first karmically adjust the relationship between you and your father and uncles. This is a simple agreement of limitations. There must be a removal of the bindings of limitations which keep you at current levels of success.

Here are your personal adjusted steps.

Stand facing the sun at sunrise and declare the following:

I ***** now declare that any and all karmic vows, agreements, connections, thoughts and energy streams that impose any financial limitations on me or my family are dissolve deleted and transmuted from this lifetime and all previous lifetimes, until they exist no more. So be it!!!

Repeat in rounds of seven then breathe, now commune with the energy of the Sun. Your karmic files will be adjusted as you declare. 7 days to complete your adjustment then apply thy discretion.

Contemplate your next business at this time; revelations will arrive, be patient. Remember sunrise just face the sun stand in a high place if you can. This is when your inspiration and revelations will arise, consume nothing only water prior to this discipline, breathe and allow your mind to relax that's all relaxing. This is ***** optimum time and optimum state.

Now where you are located, the energetic mechanics of the city you dwell in can be operated as follows. You may choose to acquire land just on the outskirts of your city, go as far out to the outskirts as is affordable and practical; a small amount is ok. Nurture this land and you may also entrust someone to care for this land as required to put the land to use whether agriculture or animals or housing or community space. Ownership of land is the main component here.

Once you own and begin to nurture a piece of the motherland, then she will give back to you in proportions of wealth 100 or even 1000-fold. The mechanics are such that those who believe they can walk the city and not give something back are grossly and foolishly mistaken therein lies the key to your personal wealth, it matters not what you decide to engage your main business endeavor as long as you are serving a small part of the motherland in a kind karmically clean manner then the mother will hold you in her heart and she will yield your dreams without distortion and will protect you from harm's way, so you may prosper.

Where is your land? What is your contribution to the motherland? Figure this out before you approach your next business endeavor and work in harmony with the land, a small project to begin with, yes, you may even collaborate with others however your foundation must be one of ground level service very simple and in harmony with the service to others.

Then you will be able to forward think, engaging with the power of the magical elements of this great land which contain much untapped potential. This will be akin to embracing the wind in your sails that will gently steer you across the ocean of life.

Once you establish this, your move to another location will be harmonious as your business revelations will arrive. First, you may restructure and rebuild your approach to business. This may occur after you have made a commune with the small land project.

Remember agriculture, farming, social housing, community activity or even animals, the endeavor is yours choose the element you are embracing is the ownership and nurturing of the estate, the nurturing of your estate this would magnify 100 to 1000 times if you are operating in a genuine manner providing service to the community.

Once this is in place, you may use your expertise and knowledge to examine the marketplace and secure your niche. Outsource your work where possible to make your success appear quickly in your reality. Refrain from doing everything yourself you may crash and burn outsource to reliable sources where needed.

You are free to explore card monitoring and security of transactions. There is a niche here to be exploited you may discover this in weeks to come, with new developments in these technologies arriving. Keep your insights close to your heart.

Business start-ups do not all require huge amounts of fanfare money to be in start-up mode restructure your idea, research hard again find ways to do things with less cost you may find you will launch your next endeavor with a fraction of the budget of previous engagements.

Long-term there is nothing to be gained from your health by remaining in your current location as you must restructure, yes, you must restructure your move, since health matters will reach critical within 24 months of your timeline with your current continued choices.

To walk out of this potential reality, face the Sun embraced the sunlight your codes for immaculate health lie within the sun, feel the rays, the warmth, the intelligence of the sun, breath in the rays of the sun.

Create one day a week of absolute health and healthy eating and drinking, and you may even choose to detox on this day by eating healthy and drinking healthy and refraining from toxic intake, one day a week only.

Submit to this weekly ritual only and the rest will become easy, no more need be said, matters of your health are in your hands. One day a week discipline will awaken your body's intelligence mechanics, and it will be easy to give up old habits.

Follow the steps here and then you may make the move to a more supportive location, speak with family and embrace their insights concerns and ambitions. Gently redesign your location.

We trust your efforts to be made in Divine Love and from your Heart.

Blessings of Divine Love and Grace from Source

Namaste.

C.E.O of Conscious Business Change

Dearest *****

The Soul Mission you speak of carries many emanations. There is no one power position that will give the absolute contentment as to stop the flow of life force energy of the universe that flows through you. You see as one plateau becomes achieved, the natural birthing cycle of the soul re-engages life expanding to another level.

In other words, once you achieve your mastery and masterful goal in one area of your life then one begins to see the journey which lies beyond that first plateau. The true possibilities for you as a Soul are endless and boundless and blocked neither by space nor time; this is the true nature of the soul. Able to experience limitless expressions throughout the universes of the Cosmos, we wish you to embody this.

Now within your current garment of life, your current garment of the physical body you now occupy. You're craving power and to serve in a good way is of a stable resonance. Use your stability and wisdom to educate yourself to the empowerment of becoming a CEO of the company of choice.

Whether there are a few years between you becoming a board member or whether this materializes sooner, set your compass towards this direction. You may take a place on the board and become influential in making decisions that benefit many.

This may be the welfare of workers in other countries as well as the company's hometown. Directing funds towards charitable avenues will see your own personal wealth & worth increase beyond your current levels, to begin with perhaps 3-fold or more.

We and you know that you will not rest until you achieve the highest level of business achievement. The seat on the board awaits you; you must first decide. Set your moral compass to head towards performing good deeds for workers creating better conditions, opportunities, structures, trainings creating empowering business scenarios for the brand and company.

Begin by increasing your awareness of the global impact that organizations imprint onto the world stage. Each company has a Karmic accent and karmic account this is both cumulative and contributes to your human societies. Create change in a global way. You will know when the time is right for synchronicity will put your voice firmly in the driving seat of a large Global Corporation.

Once you achieve this, only then will you fully understand your soul journey, which is one to create global change through the empowerment of workers and subsequently drive an economic wave that allows many people to prosper with contentment. Enhancement of the life of so-called public workers and as you create stability for yourself, so do your decisions bode well for anyone affected by your decisions.

Now your next exercise/task. Consider this. Begin by listing the global corporations that are in your area of interest, which can be any organisation you admire, worked for or are interested in, the choice is yours. During your hobby time research, the global impact of such organisations, such as the carbon footprint, how the company affects workers via social policies etc. How much cumulative damage to the environment do they cause to produce their products and so-called profit. You may find that social and environmental damage caused by major Global corporations outweighs any perceived monetary profit.

Your soul requires you to ignite this understanding within thy psyche. Research and study the subject area in preparation for a place on the board. The next is purposely blank....
(Means please pause here).

Once you have completed this, your veil of understanding will increase, and many illusions will fall away from your conscious mind. You will resonate at a much higher consciousness level. You will naturally attract what has been described in these words.

There is no major shake-up; you are to progress as we have mentioned. This act of study will remove all obstacles. Your boardroom position will serve. Set your compass. You will be content knowing that your decisions help thousands to live well and prosper.

Your Path: Eventually becoming CEO of Consciousness Business Change.

We simultaneously work alongside you and with you and for you as CEO of Conscious Business Change. This title awaits you in your months ahead.

Much love is showered upon you.

We are the Council of one the founders of humanity. Guardians of the Akashic Flame.

Notes: Allow three years of your transformation and lead well in confidence and justice for your fellow mankind.

Notes: As a consciousness shift occurs on your planet, we are here to guide and communicate with those who are ready or via those who are ready for change is inevitable; we are in a new phase of existence.

Study the economic impact & carbon footprint of the activities of large corporations who exist to make profit; however, their total footprint creates debt.

When you understand this, your consciousness will be upgraded, be prepared to receive.

Akasha: The record of all that is and all that ever was and all that will be.

Note: As you request access to your records, you are clearing at the same time. By pulling your highest potential from the Akashic records and not from the brain, which is distorted by belief thoughts and lower frequency vibrations you are clearing away obstacles and bringing your highest soul evolution potential into your holographic reality be clear about this.

The Keepers of the Flame...

How to Lead the Next Generation

Dearest *****

Thou must model perfect parenthood, support the art of parenthood as one of thy first tasks.

Support the art of parenthood with honest, open communications and companionship for those who are within range of your consciousness.

You may model parenthood providing subsequent parents with empowerment that stabilises their emotional fluctuations and the dilemmas and stresses of unknown factors to energetically support partnerships and parents who have an understanding of how their relationship is put together and how it functions outside of conventional spaces & conforms.

You're in a sense creating sacred parents or assisting the parents of future generations to find balance and peace by employing the correct empowerment programs for them.

The world has changed and the parents of future generations seek support and seek knowledge of a new format and new model for creating a balanced life for their children you my dear Brendan are the bridge to facilitate the empowerment of the parents of the future.

In turn, as you assist parents and potential parents of the future to find balance and education and empowerment, so too do you serve the next generation of the more perfected race line to exist here on planet Earth.

You see the parents must be energetically aligned and at peace and vibrationally aligned in order to birth into existence the next generation of let's say enhanced ability children.

These new children will be far more advanced and switched on to a resonance that will require the parents to re-train the way they think, feel and act, touch, smell, interact, communicate and live.

There will be a paradigm shift in the new-borns.

Your service is to be available to empower the parents with knowledge education and insight into the best way to interact with a child who already knows what is about to be said and can feel the energy of his parents and is communicating two steps or three steps ahead of his parents.

This will be a wake-up call for many of the parents to be.

Become ready to assimilate more knowledge and prepare, for you will become a point of contact for confused parents bewildered by the new perfected abilities of their new-borns.

Your codes are within you the knowledge of this task and the way is within thy soul matrix.

The race-line components you are to fully service await incarnation, let us say the majority await incarnation some are here, and some will begin to leak through into your timeline of 2017.

Predominately, the children will begin to be born into areas of sustained energy along the timeline of 2017 and beyond. Prepare by becoming aligned.

What the new world with children of extraordinary abilities look like?

What would a parent need to provide?

How would they provide that?

What relationship dynamic will need to be supported?

What energetic component will a parent need to expand into?

What resources will a parent require going forward?

You may become the bridge through early adoption and preparation, early anticipation, and preparation for these tasks mentioned here.

You may prepare by achieving a state of energy practice, begin by feeling your own internal energy flow Chi - Gong practices are your vehicle.

Learn this art to a semi-master stage. This internal chi-gong energy practice will assist in the cultivation and activation of your internal primal source codes, by running the energy with slight intention internally to awaken in your library of stored innate information.

In time to come you will be able to gravitate intuitively to the specific empowerment that each potential parent requires and also you will be able to perceive the details of parental contracts, as the parents approach you for assistance you will be able to act as a mediator between the consciousness of the child and the consciousness of the parent. As you work to develop your energy streams, this gift will be activated within you.

Use it wisely and be humble and concise in your communications.

So, your focus is on the parents of the future generations and even more so on the next generation to be birthed.

Enjoy having fun in your preparations. Remember the group gathered before you will be the parents of many of the enhanced ones and maybe one or two of the enlightened ones. (We laugh and smile).

So, we trust you will receive these words as a guiding light towards which you may now set sail utilising the compass of your intuitive free will.

Focus on Chi-Gong, generating the internal energy of life to activate your codes. Refrain from utilising your energy for healing others unless necessary.

We honour you this day,

Namaste

We are the Guardians of the Akasha Flame holders for the Journey of the Soul

Transformation from Doctor to Herbalist & Healer

Dearest *****

Please be restful at this time for what we are about to share as this may turn your world and reality into something that you may not recognise. This change will be for good.

Change thy focus of medical pursuits. For too long now you have known that medicines that have been administered do not serve, and your trust in these ways has diminished. This is a disempowering place to be.

Simply serving as a matter of necessity is unacceptable to the essence of thy soul. Medicines that are administered to soothe a person's mind along with many earthly mixtures of chemical-based products simply waste time and resource. Are you a part of this? If you know the answer to be no, then prepare to take leave of this entrapment.

Now to serve thy Soul purpose within thy medical capacity would be more to consult on remedies of prevention that you know off, and that you have experienced and have worked with, the herbs and remedies which demonstrate available evidence at hand. Medicines & remedies that you know have functioned and have worked with curable evidence at hand.

You will be more productive within thy own proactive practice. Begin to reduce the long hours you spend on your feet; a few hours of focused remedies will serve you more than many hours of administering the false placebo effect chemicals.

Now in order to move forward on your own mission, you must begin to document the Herbal elements that strengthen the immune system; the immune system is the foundation of health. The immune system meaning that it is established as the middle pillar of health. The immune system serving the whole body as the regulator of health for the physical form.

Traditionally too much attention is given to one area of health i.e. one organ or one part of the body you must begin to treat the body as a whole living organism every part of the body is relevant and reliant on every other part.

The middle pillar means the whole physical body acting as one unit exchanging information from the top to the bottom. If there is ailment in the feet then upper body must be informed of the disturbance and also treated, a balancing effect must occur, the immune system regulates and stores all information of sickness and ailments and misalignments in the body and in time to come you will develop the ability to communicate & talk with the immune system of individual patients.

The immune system will connect with you and exchange information on how to heal and rebalance individuals with sickness, disease, or ailments.

These are your gifts.

You have seen how not to treat patients, and enough unsolved puzzles have passed your way with regards to health issues, so now we embed the thoughts frequency and vibrations of the gifts of your Soul within these words

Designing a new way to practice with herbal treatments of the nations. The treatment of the nation's meaning high powerful herbal stimulators of rebalance and stimulators of the immune system without the gadgets or processes or toxic tests a formulation. You will know how to treat ailments with herbs by speaking directly to the person's heart immune intelligence system and gathering the information required for absolute radiant health support.

Begin to tune into a person's immune system imagine a network of meridians that run from the body carrying the information to rebalance every part of the body using also the blood ways and veins as conduits of life. The immune system regulates this function in the body and hums a tune and frequencies achieving health and vitality.

Tune into this well and listen to the body as if you were putting your physical ear up against the person's heart. This is how you will first diagnose your family your loved ones and close ones and then your part-time practice.

The choices are yours to expand into.

Thy mission is to bring this ability online and begin utilising it and to refine it and then let others know it exists. That you can listen to a person's heart and tune into their immune system and understand and speak the language of radiant health administering the correct foods nutrients and herbs to those who may be able to prevent ill-health before it happens

Document thy works and you will be prosperous.

Short medication "Diaries of Health and Aliveness" begin to listen to the heart of those you would meet.

We set this in motion with Divine Love and Truth as we begin to dissolve your illusion as you smile again and enjoy your quest.

Namaste

We are with you and your loved ones. We salute your work. Remember trust and listen, first begin to breathe listen to the heart and hear the immune system then you may prescribe health changes a person needs to recover back to radiant health,

Expand your Gifts into Humanity

Dearest *****

As you wish.

You wish to create karmic readiness, redress and karmic balance.

Then hear these words and so be it.

Your last incarnation was a recent one in the 19th century; there you were involved in altercations which led to you by a forcible way contributing to the death of another.

These acts that have hindered thee are here for now redressed and rebalanced in the hall of records as to no longer hinder your progress. This has been your main source of confusion and distortion and dissatisfaction as a karmic element now bleeds through to this lifetime. The karmic influence comes about as choices are made.

To stand up high on a mountain, as high as you can find, and to be clear that you accept that you are one with the universe of all things and that you now accept that all negative, and karmic imbalances are now dissolve and rebalanced and that you accept your responsibility as a future role model of life.

This first before moving onto the words that come next. The lords of karma now issue you with a get out of jail free card so to speak and all hindering karma will be dissolved if you complete the task above.

Why? Well because we as the Lords of the Akasha wish to see thee achieve thy highest potential wherever possible.

Now you must pay grace and honour to thy mother. This is the second step, for there is a karmic entanglement between you and her as you have lived together before now in previous incarnations.

We tell you this so that you are aware of your duty to this soul which is thy mother.

Free your mind of any and all scorn for your mother, let go of all disappointment and judgements clear and let go of all instances of none love and accusations, repair the relationship with you and your mother and bring this to a better place, a neutral place. We trust you understand this.

There is a fire of contempt for your mother that needs to be quelled deep within your heart search your past and forgive all instances of disillusion fear and misunderstandings with your mother.

Simply light yourself a candle reminisce these times and gently forgive, we will be there to support you. Go as far back as in your memory as you can and forgive all by uttering words of forgiveness,

"Mother I forgive you" at every instance and every memory complete the tasks.

Now thy soul mission is one of the nature of business. New technology for a new age, keep yourself informed of new technology innovations, specifically to do with sight, seeing imagery cameras and pictography, microscopic sight.

Begin to educate yourself in this domain, thy mission will be to bring to earth the ability for those who are sceptics and nonbelievers an ability to peer through the veil of existence and see beyond your current reality field and into the unseen ethers that cannot be seen with the current function of the naked eye.

There is much happening in the spaces around you, and the naked eye is a limited tool to see beyond your current reality and into the other ethers of existence, to see the lifeforms and interactions of energetic fields that take place around and about you.

These businesses will require an integration of scientific knowledge and quantum physics and formulation of liquids that will refract light particles in a way as to allow you to perceive the unknown.

Much like Einstein and Tesla brought new technology to mankind you are destined to do something similar. A new type of technology that will be gifted to thee once you are on the path of love and forgiveness.

Nurture the relationship with your mother with you and your mother for seven days by sending love and forgiveness, thou will release all karmic influences, there will be no more karmic mismatches, and this will kick-start your spiritual evolution. Be ready to receive.

Begin your study of the high-tech visual industry from your base knowledge, study also light particles and how light is reflected and refracted by liquids and chemicals, consider a new type of liquid chemical composition.

This is food for thought.

You may keep the job you have, however, become settled internally before seeking an uplift in your current salary. This may be elsewhere, or you may continue where you are, however, seek balance within as a precursor to more stable higher income.

Follow these steps

1. Declare yourself karma free from a high place in nature (a hill or mountain).
2. Forgive any aspect of your anger with your mother.
3. Become settled within and meditate at least 11 min a day.
4. Begin to study in your spare time cameras, light visual aids, light particles, liquids, chemicals, and the nature of light.
5. Study Bhagavad gita for forms of moving meditation.

Thy wife will benefit from your karmic forgiveness work with your mother, allow your wife to rest easy she is in good hands. 11 min a day meditate and if you find it difficult to meditate then just sit still quietly for 11 min per day.

Start here, then move into full flow meditation, moving meditation study the Bhagavad gita for a form of moving meditation, this is your quest explore all moving meditations of the Bhagavad gita

There is one meditation there for you that will ignite your connection to your source self your higher intelligence self that would accelerate your spiritual evolution and mission.

To deliver next level tech for interaction with the unseen world of antimatter particle-based streams of energy and consciousness science and spirituality are one and the same enjoy your 11 mins

With Love

We Are the Masters of the Cosmic Plane of the Universe,
